In Washington today, Selective Service Chief Hershey is expected to announce revised lists of activities for the guidance of local draft boards in deferring a limited number of men under 26 and determining the draft status of men 26 and over. The draft status of men 26 to 30 as well as those in the older age bracket. The war manpower commission also is expected to announce the individual plants and quotas for deferment in war or war-supporting activity.

At the same time, chances for any actual 4-F labor draft legislation are dealt a setback. Rep. May (D) Ky., chairman of the house military affairs committee declares "I don't think we will amend the selective service act any more."

It is disclosed meanwhile, that word has reached Washington that high officials of the Vatican are alarmed over German reprisals in the Rome area. The reprisals take the form of shooting all persons suspected of giving aid to the Allies. Without warning, Italians are rounded up, taken outside the city and shot down by machine guns. Thus far the victims have been mostly civilians but it is feared the next step may be a violation of the Vatican itself.

On the political front, Sen. John Thomas (R) Idaho says a careful nationwide survey reveals a minimum strength of 660 votes for Gov. Dewey as the Republican presidential candidate on the first ballot at the forthcoming G. O. P. national convention. This is more than a majority.

Elsewhere in the capital, agriculture Secretary Wickard recommends extension of social security after the war and the labor department reports an increase in juvenile delinquency cases.

Link Nazis With Attempt To Kill Head Of Mexico

By ARTHUR CONSTANTINE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MEXICO CITY, April 11.—(By Telephone to New York)—Blunt declarations by both military and labor leaders of Mexico today linked with the Nazi cause the assassination attempt which came within inches of taking the life of Mexican President Manuel Avila Camacho.

Gen. Elogio Ortiz, famed military commander of Nuevo Leon's northern border, the President Vincente Lombardo of the Latin-American Confederation of Labor, charged flatly that the would-be assassin was inspired by the Nazis.

Assailant Held

Meantime, the assailant—identified as Lieut. Jose Antonio De La Loma Y Rojas, 32-year-old adjutant to the commander of the Tampico military zone—was held incommunicado. He reportedly told authorities he attempted to shoot Avila Camacho because he was not allowed to go to church in uniform. Though the president termed the crime as that of a "crank" and others were inclined to consider the suspect as a religious fanatic, both Ortiz and Lombardo were more outspoken.

"I know this man and his antecedents," declared the general. "He is definitely affiliated with the Nazis."

Soon To Know If Nazis Can Halt Their Retreat

By CAPT. JOHN H. CRAIG
(Written Exclusively for N.S.S.)

With Odessa captured by the hard-fighting troops of Gen. Rodion Malinsky's third Ukrainian army and the second Ukrainian army group of Marshal Ivan Koneff reported to have crossed the strategic Prut and Siret rivers on broad fronts, it seems evident that a solution of one of the great strategic riddles of the war cannot long be postponed.

Can Nazis Halt Retreat?

The vital enigma is this: Can the Nazis stop their long-continued retreat when a predetermined line of no-die resistance is reached? No body knows the answer except the Russian and German general staffs. Perhaps even these cannot be certain.

From the beginning, German propaganda broadcasts have continued that the Nazi retreat in Russia was deliberate and calculated to cut commitments and shorten the line that had to be defended in view of the storm about to burst in the west in the form of the American-British amphibious invasion of the coast of France and the low countries.

This seemed to make military sense but the fighting red armies have been subjecting the retreating Nazis to such a hammering as the world has seldom witnessed. The unknown quantity in the equation is how much vitality and fighting power the German Wehrmacht has been able to conserve against the time when it must hold a line or lose the war.

Nazi Ammunition Dump Is Blasted In Cassino Area

Allied Artillery Fire Hits Giant Munitions Dump Of German Forces

MINOR NAZI THRUSTS REPORTED REPULSED

By JAMES L. KILGALLIN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NAPLES, April 11.—A giant Nazi ammunition dump just outside Cassino disappeared in a pyre of flame and smoke today when allied artillery batteries, thundering in their second day of uninterrupted shelling, covered the vital stores with direct hits.

Reverberating explosions and high-leaping flames ripped the area surrounding the huge piles of shells and TNT, testifying to the accuracy of the allied batteries.

Repulse Light Attack

Along the main sector of the fifth army front, Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson announced, Italian troops staffed off a series of light Nazi attacks and inflicted casualties on their former allies.

Indian and Canadian troops of the eighth army and American troops of the fifth army took a few prisoners," the communique declared, adding also that British troops fighting in the mud along the Anzio beachhead succeeded in repulsing several minor Nazi thrusts.

The British were supported by an American destroyer which stood offshore and lobbed dozens of rounds of shells into the enemy positions.

An American minesweeper on patrol off that same area also was credited with the probable destruction of a German Junkers-88.

The small Nazi attacks in the Anzio sector centered about a platoon thrust two miles southwest of Carroccio where the Germans retreated after suffering casualties. Three

AN ADVANCED U. S. BASE, SOLOMON ISLANDS, April 11.—Sixty members of an American army division on Bougainville Island have been decorated for gallantry in action, it was announced today at the headquarters of Lt. Gen. Millard F. Harmon.

Fifty-four Purple Hearts, two Oak Leaf Clusters and four Silver Stars were awarded.

Among the Bougainville heroes was Pfc. James D. Lowery, of Medon, Tenn., who has established "souvenir headquarters" with what is believed to be a record haul while on single patrol duty.

In addition to his own pack, Lowery returned from a two-day mission carrying one heavy Japanese Samurai sword, three Japanese rifles and a Japanese battle flag.

Lowery, who once drove a taxi-cab in Reno, Nev., proved to be an expert business man.

Eastern India Drive Of Japs At Virtual Halt

Tenacious Resistance Of Allies Is Encountered By Japs In Invasion Attempt

HEAVY PRESSURE EXERTED BY JAPS

By JAMES E. BROWN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW DELHI, April 11.—

Japanese invasion columns probing into eastern India ground to a virtual halt before the big supply bases of Kohima and Imphal today in the face of tenacious resistance by Allied troops who in some sectors successfully mounted offensive stabs of their own.

British and Indian patrols which staged the counter-actions along the Imphal plain inflicted heavy casualties on the Japanese in a number of clashes.

Lord Louis Mountbatten announced. In these actions, which raged from the foothills northeast of Imphal far to the south in the vicinity of the Tiddim road, the Allies hit enemy patrols hard and succeeded in staging at least one successful ambush.

Press Allied Lines

To the north, other Japanese troops continued to press against the Allied defense lines outside of Kohima with continuous but unavailing pressure.

With the enemy drive toward the vital Bengal-Assam rail line checked, at least temporarily, in its main thrusts, Chinese troops operating in the Mogaung valley in upper Burma—dependent upon that rail route for supplies—captured the village of Wakung.

Far to the south along the Arakan front, enemy resistance increased greatly, particularly in the

CONGRESSMAN GRAHAM AND OTHERS SPEAK

Republican candidates presented themselves to the voters of the county Monday night, April 10 in the Lawrence County court house when a rally was held in court rooms number one and two. Both were filled and many stood in the corridors.

Former Gov. Arthur H. James and Congressman Louis E. Graham were the principal speakers at the rally. The former governor, now a Superior Court judge and a candidate to succeed himself spoke hard at all of his own candidacy, confining himself to a recital of his achievements in the governor's chair and a plea to the voters to restore a Republican administration in Washington.

Crucial Year

"This year, 1944 is a crucial year," said Judge James, "but I cannot be convinced that any man should be permitted to rule for time immemorial." Judge James said the nation would grow again when Republicanism was restored in Washington and urged the election of Republicans to every office possible in Pennsylvania this year. Judge James was introduced by Judge John G. Lamoree.

Knox Believes India Invasion Will Be Halted

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox expressed belief today that the present Japanese drive into India will be checked by the British.

Knox told reporters at his news conference that the enemy drive from Burma into India has not been regarded "as serious" and that it involved a small amount of men.

"The British ought to be able to beat it and no doubt will," Knox added.

He was asked about recent reports that the Japanese had been massing powerful naval forces around the former British base of Singapore apparently to support their drive in the far east.

The secretary replied there had been some Japanese warships around Singapore but they have been dispersed. He added, however, that few enemy warships might still be in that area.

Russian Forces Pursue Germans Fleeing Odessa

Soviet Troops Also Follow Up Odessa Fall With Drive In The Crimea

BALKAN OFFENSIVE IS NOW PROBABLE

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, April 11.—Sabre-wielding Cossack cavalymen and other hard-driving Russian forces swept today to within three miles of the ferry-rail escape route of an estimated 200,000 Nazi troops fleeing from the fallen Odessa area.

In the Crimea, Soviet mobile columns pressed a multi-pronged offensive against approximately 120,000 other doomed enemy soldiers, faced with annihilation or capture now that their supply base of Odessa has been regained by the Red army.

Opens Way For Offensive

Capture of Odessa, which for 30 months had been the tightest German stronghold in South Russia, virtually ended the battle of the Balkans. It provides the Soviets with a striking base only 80 miles from the mouth of the Danube river, gives the Black Sea fleet a huge naval base and grants greater freedom of action, and poses the threat of large-scale Russian amphibious landings in the Balkans.

A National Broadcasting Company news analyst predicted in New York that the "next step" in the Russian campaign would be "seasonable amphibious attacks against the Rumanian coast behind the present Axis lines."

The accident occurred on the old Shennango Valley hospital grounds, in the rear of Phillips Place, just off Beaver street.

Police and firemen who had been summoned to the scene, were aided by others in digging the boy's body from beneath several tons of quicksand and clay, but the body was not recovered until 45 minutes after the cave-in, and life was found to be extinct.

dig a dugout in the hillside last Thursday afternoon, after school was out for the Easter vacation holiday. Work had continued at intervals since then, and by yesterday a tunnel had been dug outside the dugout proper, which led down into the earth to a depth of almost ten feet. Small cave-ins had occurred during the process, some of the boys admitted, but they hadn't realized the danger, and yesterday, a larger one occurred which buried Jimmy face down under tons of the moist earth.

Horrorful, the boys spread the alarm and started to try and dig him out. With him at the time were Frank Hannon of Phillips Place; Cecil Suber Jr. of Lincoln Avenue, and John Cunningham of Beaver street, laid between the ages of 10 and 13 years.

Fire Chief James E. Thomas and Fireman William Bowen, along with Police Officers Ray Richards and U. S. Harper went to the scene. They were aided in their rescue efforts by a tree trimming gang from the Penn Power company, and Earl Moffatt of the City of New Castle Water company, as well as neighbors.

The boy's parents were not at home when the accident occurred, but were gotten in touch with and hurried home, the father arriving before the body had been removed from the scene.

of resistance in eastern Europe. This is the line of the Carpathian mountains and the Danube delta. Unquestionably this is the line the Nazi general staff has selected for final defense.

The Carpathians stand like a steep and rugged wall across southern Poland and central Rumania, reaching to within about 100 miles of the mouth of the Danube river, on the Black sea. The 50 miles nearest the sea are mostly lagoons and marshes, impassable for an army. The remaining 50 miles, extending from the big bend of the Danube river at Galati to the foothills of the mountains is open plain, known in history as the Galati gap.

Narrowest Neck
The Galati gap is the narrowest neck at which the Danube river crosses a route can be defended. If the Nazis are going to fight for the Balkans, this is where they must make their stand.

If Marshal Koneff's army, now moving down from the north along the valleys of the Pru and Siret rivers, aided by a pincers attack by Gen. Malinsky's army approaching from the east, can crack the Galati gap, German control of the Balkan peninsula will go up in smoke.

Between the Bulgarians and the Russians, the strongest historic traditions of friendship exist. With the Russians on the Bulgarian border, the country and Yugoslavia would explode like a powder machine. The red army would roll triumphantly through Hungary to the gates of Vienna.

After such a disaster, it is not likely that the Wehrmacht could defend the Rudo-German front in Poland for long.

Watch the Galati gap during the next few weeks. One way or another, history is likely to be made there.

miles west of Littoria in the vicinity of Strada Del Crocifisso an American ambush party trapped a German enemy patrol, killing three and wounding six.

The enemy attempts to infiltrate through allies lines east of the Anagni-Carroceto road were beaten back.

The enemy fared along the main fifth army front were aimed at Italian positions near Monte Mario, but also were repelled with losses. Nazi artillery shelling in this area continued during the day.

Allied batteries concentrated on the Continental and Des Rosas hotels within Cassino. Two of the main Nazi strongpoints in that town. It was in this area, on the strip along the western edge of the city, that the ammunition dump was destroyed.

Along the Rapido river, allied tanks battered Nazi positions.

Official allied spokesmen revealed meanwhile that some of the German replacements who recently have been drawn from the Russian front—and still are suffering from frostbite.

years, and they did not increase their usual subscriptions to take care of this difference. It is to these people in particular that this appeal will be made, although the War Fund Campaign committee is asking any who can afford it to increase their subscriptions.

Ask More Funds
Letters are being mailed to individuals and organizations asking them to reconsider their previous gift and to give an additional amount if at all possible.

It was pointed out that if the people back home, virtually untouched by the war, really understood the situation, that is, that the bulk of the money raised goes directly to provide some small comfort for the men at the fighting front, providing boxes of food and medicine for the men in Axis prison camps, that they would gladly give to make up the difference needed. Instead of being dissatisfied with their neighbor's contribution, the contributors are asked to scrutinize their own gift, and to give more if they can.

KATE SMITH writes about saving used fats!

EVERY WOMAN wants to save as much used cooking fat for battlefield medicines and munitions as possible. But there are ways we may be overlooking. Are you missing out on any of these?

THERE'S THE DARK, smelly fat you've used to fry fish or onions... maybe you've thought it wasn't fit to save, but it is! Every drop will yield crystal-clear material essential to making medicines and munitions. And there's the fat you trim from meats... the scraps folks leave on their plates... have you thought to save those? Yes, it's only a little... but only a tablespoonful is needed to compound enough vaccine to protect 73 men!

SO COME ON, everybody! Scrape those pans! Save those trimmings and scraps. Keep the fat can (any tin can will do) right on the back of the stove where it's handy. When the can is full, rush it to your butcher and get 2 free red points and 4¢ for every pound.

SAN SALVADOR, April 11.—(INS)—Three high-ranking Salvadoran military officers, identified today as ringleaders of the abortive revolution which recently sought to overthrow the government, were revealed to have been executed last night.

Condemned by a military court were Gen. Alfonso Marroquin, Col. Tito Calvo and Major Julio Sosa of the military aviation corps, the official government announcement said. Seven other minor governmental officials were said to have been involved in the plot to overthrow the regime of President Maximiliano Hernandez Martinez. No further details were available.

LINK NAZIS WITH ATTEMPT TO KILL HEAD OF MEXICO

An official government statement said police found German documents on the officer after taking him into custody.

Avila Camacho probably saved his own life when he grappled with his assassin, who accosted him in the corridor of the presidential palace yesterday and fired a revolver at point-blank range. The bullet tore through the president's coat and vest, inches away from his heart. The chief, executive seized the lieutenant and pinned the latter's arms to his side until guards arrived.

Shortly after the shooting, American Ambassador George S. Messersmith called at the foreign office to inquire into the assassination attempt and to express his government's regrets concerning the incident. Washington Calling

By MARQUIS CHILDS

Dewey's Background

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Thomas Edmund Dewey, on whom the political spotlight now shines with heightened intensity, observed his 42nd birthday on March 24. He remarked to friends on that day the interesting fact that his life was split into two equal halves.

The first 21 years were spent in Michigan, the second 21 years in New York. By any standard, his rise has been a remarkable one.

For a young unknown out of the west, it is not too much to say that Dewey has been a remarkable success. Born with a political name, a comfortable income, an assured position, Franklin Roosevelt was 46 when he was elected governor of New York.

Two Opposites

In most respects Dewey and Roosevelt are opposites. They do, however, have certain qualities in common. Each has a belief in his own fundamental rightness. Each, in both ways, this becomes a stubborn belief in infallibility.

Dewey, for example, has been engaged in a bitter feud with the teachers' lobby in New York state. He has held to a certain formula for state aid to the schools. The teachers, and some parents, think this will harm the schools in many communities. It has gone so far that the governor will believe anything about the teachers' lobby.

This quality may help to explain the fact that Dewey has for long been viewed with suspicion by zealous guardians of our civil liberties. They say he stretched the law and stretched it again, and stretched it again. They say that material witnesses were kept in jail for indefinite periods, "persuaded," yes, even coerced to give the proper testimony.

Dewey's reply to such charges is simple. He says he was dealing with the most dangerous criminals in America and he had to use the law to the fullest possible extent.

The civil liberties charge has risen again. Dewey ordered an investigation of the O'Connell ring, the powerful Democratic machine in Albany. In the course of that investigation, one Sammy Jones charged he was beaten by state troopers and doubled by his head from the 29th floor of the state office building.

The governor promptly named Edward R. Finch, a judge with a distinguished reputation, to conduct an investigation. Judge Finch reported there was no basis for the charges.

Obviously Dewey would like to step a little aside from the shadow of his reputation as gang-buster even though that reputation precipitated him into national notice. He is busy translating himself into a larger sphere.

Makes Impressive Appeal
The curious thing about his personality is that it usually carries with it a reputation as gang-buster even though that reputation precipitated him into national notice. He is busy translating himself into a larger sphere.

But with small groups, he is likely to be ill at ease. Intensely sensitive to criticism, Dewey is definitely not at his best in the give and take argument. The local associates around him—only one of his disreputable attorney phrase—respect and admire him and try hard to keep up with the pace he sets for himself.

In his handling of the press, the virtues and defects of his personality come out. The flow of news is carefully regulated at Albany in his cord with Dewey's wishes. Telling and counter-telling his interests.

Working newspaper men, however, are often irritated by the Dewey personality. He blantly assumes they will accept the convenient frame which he puts around the news.

In Dewey's big hearing chamber adjoining his private office are the portraits of the New Yorkers who preceded him. As a school for statesmen, it is thoroughly handicapped. A precocious pupil, Dewey has found that out.

Health Talks

FATHER AND SON

In our study of mental hygiene we find some troublesome situations.

The father and son problem is sometimes perplexing. The son is aggressive and enthusiastic and ambitious. He wants to do what the other boys are doing.

He is impatient. He wants to get busy right away. He discounts or ignores the risks and dangers.

The father is conservative and cautious. He is not enthusiastic and darning as he once was. He recognizes and weighs the risks and dangers.

In some respects, the father has the advantage. He controls the finances.

There should be mutual consideration. The son needs the father's advice and help. The father needs the son's outlook on life. Father may be trying to put a square peg in a round hole.

These are strenuous times. Boys are sorely tempted to stop school too soon.

It seems pretty wise to try to finish the high school course at least.

"Come in," locked the door and all down, invited the business man.

The other looked.

"By the way, are you sure you locked the door?"

The applicant arose and tried it, finding it locked.

The next applicant went through the same procedure, but when he was asked about the door, replied, "I don't need to try it. I know it's locked."

"When can you come to work?" asked the boss. "I need a man who is sure of himself."

One good way to discipline yourself and win the child's cooperation is to let him collect a penny or nickel every time he hears you say "Hurry" on a school morning. Good Taste

(By FRANKIE MARBLE)

TONGUE CONTROL
Few people realize the absolute necessity of being well liked. I have so often heard it said, "I don't care what people think of me. I do as I please."

No man could be more destructive to a idea or a woman desiring social or professional success. And the man or woman who cares naught for social success is foolish, indeed. Factless and disingenuous men sometimes succeed in business despite such shortcomings. But they will find the road much rougher than that of men with less ability and more savoir faire. In either the business office or drawing room it is essential to guard your speech against abruptness or brusqueness and make yourself as popular as possible. Short, snappy answers lacking in courtesy are inexcusable and indicate lack of refined home-training. Good manners pay enormous dividends. When you show courtesy to others, you are doing yourself a favor. The President or the office boy, to the cook or your lady friend, remember that a soft answer turneth away wrath, tongue control should be developed at an early age and practiced daily.

Question: Who goes first toward the table in a restaurant—the man or the woman he accompanies?

Answer: If there is a waiter present, the woman follows him to the table where he pulls out her chair and seats her. Her escort follows her. If there is not a headwaiter who performs this service, her escort should precede her and pull out her chair at the table. If she has finished and they are ready to leave, her escort pulls out her chair and helps her on with her coat, unless the waiter performs this service.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

BROADMINDED PARENT

It would do our souls good, win the lasting admiration of our children and, therefore, render us better able to guide and control them, if we parents would take some of our own medicine.

Naturally, we are ready to rebuke or punish the child who fails to fulfill a promise to us. Suppose you had promised to bring home an article your child of ten had asked you to bring. Suppose you had arrived home without it, much to the disappointment and vexation of this child. To have chosen then to go back and get it, even having to ride a trolley car or bus and spend a few hours at it, would effect more good to help your child keep a promise than a hundred rebukes for a like failure in him.

Probably you have often scolded your child for interrupting while you were talking to another person. In case you are large enough not to grow angry at this child should he remind you of your interrupting next time you interrupt him, see what might happen. Suppose you were big enough to apologize to him and tell him the next time he caught you at it he might collect a nickel. I tried this once with one of my children and paid out two nickels in 20 minutes!

Bad Table Manners
Suppose you had often rebuked your daughter, 6, for certain types of bad table manners. Suppose she at a later time were able to tell you without fear of your anger that you were committing the same breach of etiquette. Don't you think the effect on you and the child would be good?

You grow angry if your boy, after using one of your tools, fails to put it in place. Then suppose you have used some tool or possession of his and failed to put it back afterwards. Should you not expect him to be angry at you for your delinquency? Should you not be ready to apologize to the last and assure him you will be more dependable later and then really prove it?

If he does run, will he be elected? If he is elected, what kind of Congress will he have to rely on? Republican House surely. And a Senate so divided politically that it will be little inspiration or aid to a president.

If Mr. Roosevelt does run for that fourth term and is defeated, who will succeed him? It is possible the country may put an isolationist in the White House. Reports from Chicago prove that a strong isolationist sentiment still exists in the powerful middle west.

When the casualty lists from that long anticipated invasion come in, bereaved families, how can anyone NOT say that hundreds of thousands of voters may not ask, "Why are we sending our fine young men to be killed abroad? Let's get them home. Let Europe finish the war it began."

Of course, Uncle Joe has considered these and a thousand other uncertainties. Likewise he has considered the future of Winston Churchill, would Foreign Minister Anthony Eden or Labor Leader Bevin, his possible successors, be ready to co-operate with Russia in her war and post-war aims? Stalin wonders about this riddle.

International Poker
The Soviet leader must have on his mind, as he drives Russia across the continent, the picture of Woodrow Wilson after the last war—a repudiated Woodrow Wilson, turned down and out by his own people. Is it likely, ask the shrewd thinkers, that Stalin trusts the popularity of Roosevelt or any president to survive this war and the bleak days of reconstruction? This is a country that likes to tear down its idols.

So, ask realistic thinkers, why should rainy Uncle Joe show his hand in this international poker game until he knows who will be sitting in with him this time next year?

Both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill must find they've missed out on that inside royal straight flush they were hoping to fill. But he, Uncle Joe, is set to lay down four aces or maybe five for as I said, this is a poker game. And dunces and dictators are wild.

Now Uncle Joe is playing his cards close to his chest.

Hull's Foreign

Policy Speech

WASHINGTON, April 11.—(INS)—Secretary of State Hull's pledge in his speech on foreign policy to work with a bi-partisan congressional committee was generally approved by Congress.

Sen. Harold Burton (R., Ohio) characterized the Hull address as meaning that a national foreign policy is being formed, and that Congress must have a part in it.

Some senators, including Democratic Sen. Burton, declined to comment on the address apparently being unsatisfied with some points.

Sen. Gerald Nye (R., N. D.) said he did not see how anyone could construe the Atlantic charter as permitting international grabber.

I believe Secretary Hull's speech was consistent with the attitude of Congress for an international organization, said Sen. Burton. "I think it means a foreign policy is being developed, and he has got to develop it in cooperation with Congress."

"I don't see how any man can read the Atlantic charter and make it approve the program of acquiring new territory which is being given Allied blessings this early in the game," said Sen. Gerald Nye (R., N. D.).

Secretary Hull rendered a service in clarifying somewhat the administration's foreign policy and it no doubt will be helpful in promoting a better understanding of the executive and Congress," said Sen. Raymond E. Willis (R., Ind.). Willis said the "most satisfactory" feature in Hull's speech was his proposal for an advisory committee to study past plans.

Rep. Elsworth (R., Ore.) "It was the strongest statement yet made by the state department. It didn't answer quite all the questions, but was a long step forward."

Good Reason Seen For Stalin's Attitude
Permanence In Power Gives Stalin Edge
World Situation Like A Mad Poker Game

BY HELEN ESSARY

(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Let's stop picking on Uncle Joe—It's a growing sentiment among the shrewd thinkers in the town.

Why shouldn't the Soviet premier be canny and cautious? Even coy. If he wants to be? How does he know who will be running Britain or the United States within a few months' time?

Wouldn't Stalin be exceedingly stupid if he failed to realize that Franklin Roosevelt and Winston Churchill may not be the hardy perennials some people think they are?

And if they are not the hardy perennials and are succeeded by new and relatively strange personalities, who will look after the Russian interests among the United Nations except Josef Stalin? On whom can Stalin depend except on Stalin and his own countrymen?

Naturally, Stalin must know that at the present time he has no stable government in either Britain or the United States to deal with. Naturally, he must know that the shrewd thinkers, who are slow to confide in his present and future plans to leaders who may have lost all governmental power years before he was elected.

Uncle Joe may well be mysterious, in the opinion of a stable number of Washington prophets. His whole country may well be mysterious.

Wouldn't the United States be mysterious in her dealings with Russia if she knew that Stalin might be down and out by January, 1945?

The next presidential election day in the United States may bring a complete upset in the government of this country and the conduct of the war. To the rest of the world, the domestic and foreign policy of the United States and the sentiment of its people are therefore not to be counted on. As a major uncertainty, nobody really knows whether or not Mr. Roosevelt will run again. Perhaps Mr. Roosevelt doesn't know himself.

If he does run, will he be elected? If he is elected, what kind of Congress will he have to rely on? Republican House surely. And a Senate so divided politically that it will be little inspiration or aid to a president.

If Mr. Roosevelt does run for that fourth term and is defeated, who will succeed him? It is possible the country may put an isolationist in the White House. Reports from Chicago prove that a strong isolationist sentiment still exists in the powerful middle west.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERIC BRANDELS

We were doing some reminiscing in lunch today. When we were in love the first time in our lives? Did we remember the girl, the emotions, the circumstances?

We certainly did, everyone of us. We fellows who eat lunch together almost every day are in the thirties and forties, one of us even in the early fifties.

Having been around a lot we all have had a number of affairs most of them forgotten, some remembered pleasantly, some not so pleasantly.

All of—with the exception of an unaccountable old bachelor are married and lead the normal kind of lives.

Never Forget
But that first love—that something you never forget!

The poignant and importance of the high hopes and deep disappointments, the promises made and all of them broken, the moon, the flowers, the soft white hands, the glory and wonder of it that comes only once in a lifetime!

My first love was a dark-eyed youngster of 13. I was 14 at the time.

Our favorite trysting place was a bench behind the monkey cage at the zoo.

But to us it was

Fiercest Fighting Marine Regiment Perpetuates Fourth

New Regiment To Carry On
For Fallen Gallants In
The Philippines

By JACK MAHON
ADVANCED SOLOMON ISLAND
BASE, March 20—(Delayed)—The blood-stained heritage of the most honored marine regiment in world war 2nd—the undying heroes of the fourth marine regiment of Bataan —will be perpetuated by the fiercest fighting leatherneck unit ever formed.

A new Fourth Marine regiment, comprising four of the most blooded battalions in corps history—the famed Marine Raiders whose battle flags have been raised in victory in all corners of the Pacific—has been organized to finish the fight launched by the fallen gallants of
the Philippines.

The new 4th Marines, under the command of Lt. Col. Alan A. Shapley, of Detroit, were organized in January, under the new marine program to do away with specialized units. Their first operation was in the virtually unopposed occupation of Emirau Island in the St. Matthias group, northwest of the Solomons.

The raiders have operated almost exclusively in the South Pacific to date, the campaigns in the Rus-sels, New Georgia, Bougainville, and Matthias group keeping them fairly busy during the past year.

Many of the original raiders, of course, are not with them now, many have been called back to the states as instructors or for hospitalization. Many are dead.

But a good percentage of the famed "first wave" veterans are still on hand. They will be the nucleus of the new regiment—its avenging spirit. They have the experience, the debt to their dead that must be paid off.

Scores Drive Failure

Editor New Castle News,
Dear Sir:

Lawrence County has seven or eight thousand men and women in the armed forces to every one of them the Red Cross will be of some assistance before this war is over,
and there is no doubt but that the Red Cross will save the lives of some of them, and yet last week, we closed one of the best organized drives, after thoroughly canvassing
the county, and with the exception of Ellwood City, were compelled to end the drive with the word failed.
The reason given was "On account of paying income taxes, people simply did not have the money to give, not even to save the lives of our own men and women, fighting
our fight."

At the same time, we quit on the greatest humanitarian organization in the world with a rotten excuse, and through no fault of the canvassers, our streets and stores filled up with Easter shoppers, buying anything and everything for which the seller had the nerve to ask two to ten times its worth. Whisky, any price asked; Orchids, ten to fifteen dollars each, as long as there were any, and most of them bought by and for people who do not know an orchid from a daisy. Ten dollars for a quart or a flower and could not spare one dollar to save a life. That is what we call "The American Way."

Grandmothers Are Aiding War Effort Says Mrs. Roosevelt

NEW YORK, April 11.—(INS)—
Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt declared Monday that "America's grandmothers have laid aside the tradi-

duration" and are taking their place in the war effort "wherever there is a job to be done."

The first lady spoke over an NBC hook-up in the first speech of a drive of the grandmothers war bond league.

"We have often heard it said that this is a young people's war," said Mrs. Roosevelt, "and, indeed, so far as the fighting fronts are concerned, it is your youths who are serving their country so brilliantly."
But at home America's grandmothers have laid aside the traditional lavender and old lace for the duration and... they are stepping into the breach wherever there is a job to be done."

Prison Sentence In Auto Death

DETROIT, April 11.—(INS)—
John Grimmins, 47, nationally known Detroit bowler, was sentenced to six months to five years in jail Monday for negligent houn-
cide in the traffic death of Vincent Ereux, a bus driver.

Traffic Judge George T. Murphy recommended a maximum term of six months.

Ereux was killed by the bowler's automobile Dec. 19. Witnesses testified Grimmins was speeding and under the influence of liquor at the time.

Judge Murphy said the reason for the lighter sentence was that Grim-mins had a good previous record and had paid Ereux' widow $4,000.
Grimmins attorney immediately posted a $1,000 bond and announced he would file a motion for a new trial.

A. It was sent.

Q. When did you begin advocating selective spanking?

A. When my own children were very young and have done so consistently since. In my first book,
The Learner and His Attitude, published in 1925 I stated my stand very clearly; also in several other books and magazine articles since.
I have stated it from the platform

Q. Most children who buy war savings stamps and bonds merely get them with money handed to them by their parents. Would these children not gain greater moral and patriotic value if they bought the stamps or bonds from money they had earned or saved?

A. Yes; though not so many stamps would be purchased, perhaps. I wish the school would play up as the best achievement purchase of stamps and bonds by the child
out of his allowance.

bought and paid for more than 9,000

Tail Gunner Safe After Collision 19,000 Feet In Air

NAPLES, April 11.—(INS)—Sgt.
James Raley 27, of Henderson, Ky., an aerial tail gunner, was alive today after riding to earth in a fortress that collided with another
B-17 19,000 feet up in the air.

Raley, at the time of the crash, felt a terrific shock, then was pinned down by overturned ammunition boxes as the plane gyrated downward. The descent, he said later, must have taken 10 or 15 minutes, during which time he tried desperately but ineffectually to extricate himself.

Finally he felt the impact of the ground, which helped him to break free. Only 12 feet of the tail end of the plane was left, but he could walk unaided. No other crew members have been found.

Damages to Raley? A scratch on his chin.

WATCHES START OF BIG BOMBER RAID

casts said very large concentrations of American planes were over the Reich.

Some of the Thunderbolts which accompanied the Marauders over Charleroi and against other military targets in northern France were officially revealed to be acting as fighter-bombers.

The mighty American offensive against the heart of Germany appeared bringing up to a new level of intensity the "invasion-softering" process. It came but hours after the RAF's heaviest sweep against French and Belgian railroad targets.

The attacks on the Franco-Belgian railroads seem to be a part of a general plan to destroy the enemy links with the channel, and are closely related with the Anglo-American battering of German aircraft industries.

Cover Area 150-250 Miles
So far, the assaults have covered a rectangular area 150 miles deep and 250 miles in length, extending across the channel coast from the mouth of the Scheldt river to Le Havre. It runs inland almost as far as Luxembourg and Tours.

The use of the RAF's strategic night bombing force on these tactical attacks indicates either assistance of the British bomber command has been called for by the invasion high command, or that the weather and moon conditions over Europe prevent strategic employment of night bombers thus releasing them for priority targets nearer home.

As this morning's raiders left their British base, Lieut. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz and Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton accompanied Eisenhower.

Hannover Attacked
The daylight attacks came shortly after a force of 900 RAF night bombers, one of the greatest ever sent out over Europe, struck again at rail targets in occupied Belgium and France. Night-flying Mosquitos simultaneously assaulted the Nazi city of Hannover, reported under attack again by daylight today, and other objectives in the Ruhr. In addition, mines were sown in enemy waters.

The rail targets hit in the two occupied lands included Ghent, Tours, Tergnier, Aulnoye and Laon, the air ministry revealed. Twenty-two planes were lost.

DNB, the controlled enemy propaganda outlet, reported that the raiders, presumably American heavy bombers, struck at Brunswick, Hannover and the Baltic coastal areas of Germany. The agency asserted that furious air battles were fought in the skies over these sections, all of which are known as focal points of Nazi aircraft production.

German Reprisals Alarm Vatican

Rome Area Scene Of Assassinations In Nazi Reprisal Program Is Report
By LEON PEARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Word reached Washington today that high officials of the Vatican are alarmed over German reprisals in the Rome area.

The reprisals take the form of shooting all persons suspected of giving aid to the Allies. Mysteriously and without warning, Italians are rounded up, taken to a location outside the city by the truckload, and shot by machine gun fire.

So common has this procedure become that Italians have a special word for it—the "Redada," or drag-net. The word implies that it draws together the guilty and the innocent alike.

Disappear By Thousands
Victims of such reprisals have disappeared "by thousands," it was stated. Thus far the victims have been civilians for the most part. But it is feared the next stop of the Nazis may be a violation of the Vatican itself.

Word has reached the state department that high officials of the Vatican have given directions for the disposal of their property, in case of death.

Church officials keep strictly within the territory of the Vatican, save for an occasional trip to the Pope's villa, located at Castel Gandolfo.

Though Castel Gandolfo is only 15 miles from Rome, the journey is regarded as full of fatal possibilities.

One of the Cardinals is known to have said he is prepared for the worst, and has resolved what course he will take. "If they do to his holiness what was done to Pope Pius the Sixth," This is a reference to the fact that Pius the Sixth was driven from Rome by Napoleon.

Confirmation has been received in Washington of the recent "Redada," or round-up in which 300 Italians were shot, in reprisal for the death of 24 Gestapo officers, in the course of a Fascist parade in Rome.

Central Church Names Officers

Reports given at the meeting of the congregation of Central Presbyterian at the church on Monday evening showed a very satisfactory and healthy condition of the church, evidencing a good church spirit, officers of the congregation report.

Contributions during the past year totaled more than for any of the past 16 years.

Trustees, deacons and elders all were re-elected as follows:

Trustees: J. Glen Anderson, District Attorney Leroy K. Donaldson, and Clifford Propst;
Deacons: Emerson McGuire and Arthur Bratschie;

Elders: W. S. Wright, David S. Sneathen, John F. Walters, Fred Donaldson, H. Gill Brown, and Alfred T. Sadler.

Elected to the music committee of the church were John F. Love, A. T. Sadler, Leon Williams, Alisan Leslie, and Mrs. Clifford Propst.

BLACKFACE WEDDING CEREMONY IS LEGAL

OAKMONT, Pa.—(INS)—Irene Gonsowski and William G. Bostjanik wanted to be married, but the squire wasn't in his office. He was one of the end men in the Lions club minstrel show at Oakmont high school. So the couple were married in the school corridor before the blacked-out cast, with the janitor as witness. The blacked-out squire, attired in checked waistcoat, red and white trousers and silver shoes, assured the anxious couple that the ceremony was legal despite the setting.

tend a meeting. Passes were given and the men left the plant. The eight to four shift reported and then asked for passes to attend a meeting. Passes were given and the men left the plant. The eight to four shift reported and then asked for passes. These were refused by the foremen and the machinists, forgers and welders left the plant.

Presenting the case of the men, Charles A. Smith and Carl Salberg said today, "The men left their work today because the company refused to negotiate grievances. Specifically, the company refused to discharge Larry Morget, a foreman who has been guilty of laying off men in violation of the 'seniority and ability' clauses of the contract we have with the company. A petition was circulated asking for his discharge and the company said they would not take any blanket grievance but would consider specific instances where partiality was charged.

"Under the terms of our contract men are to be laid off under seniority and ability rules. These rules have not been lived up to at 1:20 this morning the men left their jobs to attend a continuous meeting."

"Authorized Illegal Strike"
For the company, George L. Meyers, Personnel Director of the United Engineering and Foundry Company said "this is an authorized illegal strike, growing out of a pretense of the union of attending a meeting. At this hour (10:30 a. m.) the company has not been apprised of the reason for calling the strike."

"The company has always been willing to adjust legitimate grievances but it has refused to consider conditions over which the union has no jurisdiction. The discharge of a foreman is such a matter. The union officials were told Monday afternoon by Conciliator Joseph E. Conway of the U. S. Department of Labor and Joseph A. Sharkey, of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry the men were out of line in this strike."

"At this meeting both mediators offered suggestions for the settlement of the difficulty and these were acceptable to the union. We cannot see the strike was aggravated by the circulation of the petition to discharge Foreman Larry Morget in which a dead line of 12:01 a. m., April 1 was set."

Clark H. Johnson, plant manager said, "We have not been given any reasons for the strike, nor have we refused to adjust legitimate grievances. At the present time the machine shop is down, about 75 per cent of the welding department is working and about fifty per cent of the fitting floor."

International Representative
Alex Skundor, representing the International Association of Machinists entered the picture Monday afternoon and today said, "It is my job to get the difficulty adjusted as quickly as possible and get the men back to work. This I hope will be accomplished tonight when a meeting of the local is called by President Arsen Armand for King Humbert Hall. The discharge of Foreman Larry Morget is not at issue. We do not ask for that. We do ask that the company live up to the contract provisions in the matter of layoffs under seniority and ability clauses."

The plant is not picketed, the men claiming they are attending a continuous meeting. Work in the other departments of the plant is proceeding as usual. Army and Navy ordnance officials are expected to be in the city this afternoon and they may attend the meeting with the union tonight.

More than 5,500 Nazi troops were wiped out and 1,000 others captured in initial phases of the Crimean offensive.

At the northern end of the flaming Ukrainian front, the Red army pressed its battle of annihilation against remnants of 15 German divisions trapped west of Skala.

Pfc. Dando has been in Army service since January 1942, and has been overseas with the infantry since July of that year. He has served in England, Scotland, North Africa, Sicily and Italy.

tend a meeting. Passes were given and the men left the plant. The eight to four shift reported and then asked for passes to attend a meeting. Passes were given and the men left the plant. The eight to four shift reported and then asked for passes. These were refused by the foremen and the machinists, forgers and welders left the plant.

Presenting the case of the men, Charles A. Smith and Carl Salberg said today, "The men left their work today because the company refused to negotiate grievances. Specifically, the company refused to discharge Larry Morget, a foreman who has been guilty of laying off men in violation of the 'seniority and ability' clauses of the contract we have with the company. A petition was circulated asking for his discharge and the company said they would not take any blanket grievance but would consider specific instances where partiality was charged.

"Under the terms of our contract men are to be laid off under seniority and ability rules. These rules have not been lived up to at 1:20 this morning the men left their jobs to attend a continuous meeting."

"Authorized Illegal Strike"
For the company, George L. Meyers, Personnel Director of the United Engineering and Foundry Company said "this is an authorized illegal strike, growing out of a pretense of the union of attending a meeting. At this hour (10:30 a. m.) the company has not been apprised of the reason for calling the strike."

"The company has always been willing to adjust legitimate grievances but it has refused to consider conditions over which the union has no jurisdiction. The discharge of a foreman is such a matter. The union officials were told Monday afternoon by Conciliator Joseph E. Conway of the U. S. Department of Labor and Joseph A. Sharkey, of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry the men were out of line in this strike."

"At this meeting both mediators offered suggestions for the settlement of the difficulty and these were acceptable to the union. We cannot see the strike was aggravated by the circulation of the petition to discharge Foreman Larry Morget in which a dead line of 12:01 a. m., April 1 was set."

Clark H. Johnson, plant manager said, "We have not been given any reasons for the strike, nor have we refused to adjust legitimate grievances. At the present time the machine shop is down, about 75 per cent of the welding department is working and about fifty per cent of the fitting floor."

International Representative
Alex Skundor, representing the International Association of Machinists entered the picture Monday afternoon and today said, "It is my job to get the difficulty adjusted as quickly as possible and get the men back to work. This I hope will be accomplished tonight when a meeting of the local is called by President Arsen Armand for King Humbert Hall. The discharge of Foreman Larry Morget is not at issue. We do not ask for that. We do ask that the company live up to the contract provisions in the matter of layoffs under seniority and ability clauses."

The plant is not picketed, the men claiming they are attending a continuous meeting. Work in the other departments of the plant is proceeding as usual. Army and Navy ordnance officials are expected to be in the city this afternoon and they may attend the meeting with the union tonight.

official Russian communiques said was launched on the Perekop Isthmus and across the Sivash Gulf was marked by an early 12-mile advance deep into enemy defenses.

The London Daily Mail estimated that 60,000 Germans and an equal number of Rumanian troops now are "trapped" in the Crimean. Odessa was captured by a combination flanking maneuver and frontal attack, made despite bad road conditions and over terrain turned into quagmires by the spring thaw. As the official bulletin pointed out, the German garrison had at its disposal "extremely favorable positions on the approaches" to the city.

Nevertheless, mobile units of Russian cavalry, tanks and motorized infantry swept in on the city from five directions and after night-long street fighting of particularly fierce nature drove the Nazi garrison out of the fortress town. The enemy, who left an "enormous" amount of war materials in his wake, retreated toward the six-mile-wide Dniestr (Dniester) river mouth where a ferry route into Bessarabia still was open to him.

Racing to cut the last means of escape for the defeated Germans, Soviet forces reached a point only three miles from the railroad leading to the port of Ovidopol, eastern terminus of the train ferry.

More than 5,500 Nazi troops were wiped out and 1,000 others captured in initial phases of the Crimean offensive.

British Airmen Kept Fit To Fight

LONDON—(INS)—A pointer to the strain on long range fliers who today are helping to win the Atlantic battle against U-boats, is embodied in an air ministry bulletin released today.

"It needs little imagination," the bulletin said, "to realize the pitch of physical fitness and the capacity for endurance essential in men who perhaps three times a week, may be called upon to fly in a sortie lasting from 18 to 20 hours; and who may at any moment during that long trip find themselves in violent action against a submarine."

Keep Men In Shape
The concentration of the long hunt and the perfect coordination of muscles and nerves needed in sudden attack, the bulletin pointed out, are possible only in men in the finest physical condition.

To assure this peak, important research work has been done by the medical and physical fitness sections of the coastal command. They have devised a set of rules which keeps the airmen in a state of super-physical perfection.

The plan now works under six headings: Accommodation, rest, diet, physical fitness, leave and clothing. Pilots and crews follow it willingly.

Rest Compulsory

Comfort and quiet is the emphasis placed on accommodation. "Silence" notices are inviolable. Rest is compulsory. Before a sortie crews are sent to bed for a minimum number of hours and must sleep at least ten hours upon completion of a flight.

Diet receives particular attention. Heavy food before a trip is taboo, for it tends to render both brain and body sluggish. Hence, before and after a sortie, crews are required to eat a light and specially balanced meal.

BIRTHS

(Announcements to appear in this column must be signed with name and address of writer, and also give name of doctor.)

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Janiel of 14 1/2 East Long avenue announce the birth of a daughter, April 10, in the New Castle hospital.

More than half the passengers using any form of public transportation between cities last year rode on the country's 23,474 highway buses.

JAP TANKS ARE POORLY MADE

By CLINTON GREEN

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

A CENTRAL PACIFIC ARMY BASE, April 11.—(INS)—The Japanese idea of a tank is okay for driving "but not for fighting," according to Corp. Vincent E. Ford, 28, of Mt. Kisco, N. Y.

A Japanese tank was captured by American forces in the invasion of the Gilberts last November. It was made in 1942 at the Sagami Army Arsenal in Japan and most of the small parts were "hand scratched"; that is, they were not run off on machines.

Everything Copied

The Japs, never known for doing anything original, used ideas and designs from just about everyone in manufacturing the vehicle.

The gun mounts were made in Germany and bear the markings of a Nazi manufacturer; the machine guns are an adaptation of the British Bren machine gun; the upper silhouette resembles the old World War French Renault; and the fenders rattle like those of an old model T Ford.

Engine A Good One

A good in-line Diesel engine, which burns unrefined fuel, powers the tank. However, it is about the only part of the vehicle considered efficient by army technicians.

The only way for a Japanese infantry man to get in touch with the crew is to push a button on the outside of the tank. There is no radio. The gun turret operates by hand; the armor is not considered thick enough to stop a .30 calibre armor piercing bullet.

Capt. Donald M. Brattain, of Washington, D. C., took charge of the tank when it arrived from Makin. His first problem was to find an American tank man small enough to get into the cramped pinching quarters.

That's when Corporal Ford came into the picture. He could make it. Ford drives the tank around for American soldiers in training. Recently, he displayed it for an infantry outfit. The colonel of the outfit asked Ford how he would like to take the tank into battle.

Admiral Hart At Headquarters Of Asiatic Fleet

By CLINTON GREEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
PEARL HARBOR, April 11—Admiral Thomas C. Hart, former commander in chief of the U. S. Asiatic fleet, has arrived at Pacific fleet headquarters of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, overall commander of Pacific ocean area forces.

There was no official comment concerning Admiral Hart's presence at Pearl Harbor, but observers deemed it significant in the light of his thorough knowledge of the Pacific and China's seas.

Only recently, it was recalled, Admiral Nimitz publicly announced that the primary objective of his vast sea and air forces was to drive straight through to the China coast to establish American bases from which to attack the Japanese mainland.

Admiral Hart's most recent assignment was the taking of testimony from naval officers acquainted with the situation "pertinent to the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941."

A recognized expert on submarine warfare Admiral Hart is a member of the Navy's policy making general board.

He relinquished his post as commander of the Asiatic fleet because of ill health.

Nebraska Voters Going To Polls

OMAHA, Neb., April 11—(INS)—The Nebraska primary election, almost completely deflated by withdrawal of Wendell Willkie from the Republican presidential race, today held the interest of comparatively few voters. The polls opened at 8 a. m.

Withdrawal of Willkie left Lt. Comdr. Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, the only republican presidential aspirant in the race, although Willkie's name remains on the ballot. Talk of a write-in campaign for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey were dispelled by party leaders.

PILE TORTURE RELIEVED

The maddening itching, burning, and stinging are lessened and often greatly relieved by using San-Cura Ointment.

San-Cura Ointment at all drug stores. It is a great help first to bathe the affected parts with San-Cura Soap.

Fighter Group Down 405 Planes

LONDON, April 11—(INS)—Col. Donald J. N. Blakeslee's fighter group whose pilots include top-ranking ace Capt. Don Gentile of Piqua, Ohio, was credited today with the record-breaking destruction of 405 enemy planes.

A recheck of headquarters figures, which yesterday had listed 403 planes on the group's list, showed that two others also have been destroyed by Blakeslee's men. Of the 405 planes destroyed, 105 were bagged on the ground and 300 in the air.

The announcement was made while Gentile waited to receive official recognition later today of his record-breaking destruction of 30 German aircraft from one of the most eminent figures in the European theater of operations—whose name has not yet been divulged.

Primary Election In Illinois Today

CHICAGO, April 11—(INS)—The Illinois electorate voted today in the state's first presidential primary since World War II began, with early balloting indicating an exceptionally tight turnout.

A heavy rain was falling in many sections of the state, further discouraging the trek to the polls.

The republicans had the opportunity of voting for Gen. Douglas MacArthur, entered in the preferential primary as candidate for the presidential nomination, without his consent.

Near San Jose, Costa Rica, a "lost forest" of the largest oak trees in the world—some eight feet in diameter—has been discovered.

Reimbursement In
N.Y.A. Protection*Federal Security Administration
Asserts No Funds Available
To Pay CityWhat appears to be ingratitude on the part of the Federal Security Administration headed by Paul D. Mc-Nutt was seen in the department's refusal to reimburse the city $2,800, for police protection provided at the NYA after its abandonment last summer although the officials at the NYA personally asked the city for protection. As a result of the protection the NYA at Cunningham park was kept free of theft and damage which reportedly existed at other NYA settlements in different parts of the country.However, Property Director Joseph D. Alexander does not hold the same opinion as other city officials that the city will not finally be reimbursed. He believes that, if a member of council went to Washington and personally stated the case, instead of letters (which already have been sent there), results would be obtained. In fact, he stated this morning that he intends to continue efforts to secure a reimbursement.After the NYA was abandoned Henry Neal, in charge of the project here, requested Mayor Charles B. Mayne and council to provide protection. At the time Property Director Joseph D. Alexander was on vacation. No written contract was arranged and it is due to lack of such a written agreement it is said that no reimbursement has been forthcoming. However, the fact remains the protection was given the NYA and also the Treasury department which later assumed jurisdiction. It now is controlled by the war department.According to the letter received from the Federal Security Administration, it states the department is without authority to make a reimbursement. Councilman Alexander said that he felt that if council sent a man to Washington to prove what the city has done there was a big chance in his opinion of getting the $2,800.Council opined another letter should be written asking for reimbursement. Alexander took the position that personal contact would prove more beneficial in attempting to secure the $2,800. He urged someone be delegated to the task.Thirteen Toledo

For Farm ShowHARRISBURG, April 11.—(INS)— Preliminary plans for a 1945 state farm show week took definite shape today following the selection by the farm show commission of dates and agenda for the 29th annual meeting.The commission disclosed that January 9-11 was fixed as farm show "week." The period coincides with a usual week's recess of the general assembly, the commission explained, and there would be less competition at that time in obtaining housing and restaurant facilities for some 5000 farm people expected to attend.The 1945 meeting, like those of the previous two years, will be lacking in the colorful farm exhibits and contests which highlighted pre-war expositions in the farm show building. Miles Horst, secretary of agriculture and chairman of the farm show commission, said that the general plan of the 1944 show will be followed in that sessions will be comprised entirely of farm discussion groups on current and war-time problems and production
management and distribution of food.Marlene Dietrich

News Briefs From City Hall

Railroad and city police today had notified five youths to appear at police headquarters, it having been alleged they were suspected of having struck a fireman on a railroad train with a missile. Stump also was rolled upon the railroad company's property.

Alec Hasson, 430 East Long avenue, has received a permit to remodel a frame dwelling at that address. J. H. McConnell, 607 Court street, will be allowed to enclose a porch at that address, according to city engineering department records.

City of New Castle council has asked bids for the painting of the municipal building. The bids will be opened April 24. Not so long ago one city councilman said he would be in favor of disposing of the building which in the past has required considerable expense for remodeling. Some years ago there was agitation to dispose of the building and acquire another structure suitable for municipal needs but the opportunity was permitted to slip by. The building is located on Washington street where the foot-frontage of property is very valuable.

Mayor John F. Haven in police court today imposed a fine of $25 in default of which one Sam Abraham would be committed to the county jail for 30 days. It was alleged that while intoxicated, he molested a woman in Long avenue, was knocked out by her husband, and required treatment for lacerations of the head at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

It is likely that city council will soon delve into the exempt property list here. Some time ago a list of property, carrying a value of $8,000,000, according to reports, was submitted to council, at council's request by City Assessor George Patterson.

Police reported today the recovery of several autos which were stolen here, among them being that of Christ Walker, city mechanic. It was located at Slippery Rock. Cars owned by Joseph Botka, Huron avenue and Raymond G. Koelliker, Hillcrest avenue were found. The auto of Raymond Cunningham which was found yesterday was stolen again last night. Indications point to a gang of auto thieves here. The cars are apparently taken for joy-rides. A dose of real punishment may be a curative when the thieves are apprehended.

Mrs. J. A. Baker, Wampum, R. D. 1, reported to police yesterday she laid down her pocketbook containing $28.00 and valuable documents, in a local store yesterday. Someone reportedly stole it.

Polish Troops Eager To Fight Way Back Home

NAPLES, April 11.—(INS)—High-spirited Polish troops, fighting on the European continent for the first time in five years, were described today by their leader as "eager to fight their way back home."

This description was given to a news conference by Gen. Kasimir Z. Sosnkowski, commander-in-chief, following an inspection of the troops, which he said are "perfectly" equipped with American and British weapons.

The general also praised the vast Polish underground army which, he said, "carried the fight to the enemy for four and a half years in occupied Poland." He said the Patriot group totalling hundreds of thousands of members is constantly hampering communications and production behind the German lines.

Tornadoes Strike Western Arkansas

(BULLETIN)
ST. LOUIS, April 11.—(INS)—Fourteen deaths and injuries to 141 persons were reported today in Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas as a result of storms and floods in those areas. Three persons were reported missing.

Heavy rains in the wake of storms forced many creeks and rivers out of their banks, destroying 110 houses and damaging 215 others, the mid-western area of the American Red Cross in St. Louis announced. Eighty-four other buildings were destroyed and 275 damaged.

Initial reports show that 515 families are affected.

Twelve of the deaths reported by the Red Cross are in Arkansas; seven in Monroe county, two in Pulaski county, two at Pine Bluff, and one in Boone county. The other two are at Cordell, Okla., and Hamilton, Tex.

Oklahoma Has Three Storm Deaths

TULSA, Okla., April 11.—(INS)—Three deaths, injuries to more than a score of persons and property damage totalling thousands of dollars was reported today in Oklahoma in the wake of storms and floods which have swept many sections of the state.

Heavy rains falling over wide areas have caused many creeks and rivers to go out of their banks, and hundreds of families have been evacuated from their homes. In other areas, small twisters caused at least one death and injuries to nearly 20 persons.

Reports this morning indicated Bartlesville, in northeast Oklahoma, as being the hardest hit by flood waters, with waters of the Caney river overflowing its banks and swirling into the outer edges of the city.

Third Victim Of Underworld Is Taken In Camden

CAMDEN, N. J., April 11.—(INS)—The underworld had claimed its third victim in a little more than a month today following the pattern of prohibition era gangland slayings.

Harry Passen, known as Andy Harris, South Philadelphia racketeer, was the latest victim. His body was discovered in a lonely patch of woods near Williamstown, about 20 miles south of Camden.

Police said he was dumped by a roadside wrapped in a blood-stained blanket after being beaten and shot three times. Authorities believed the killing was connected with the murder in Philadelphia of Gambler John P. Brennan March 7 and the slaying of racketeer Vincent Scioia in Camden March 29.

Friction between rival mobs in the Philadelphia and South Jersey area fighting for the patronage of war workers at their gambling dens, and operations in the gasoline black market were considered underlying causes of the recent crime wave.

Confer Today On Special Session Plans For State

HARRISBURG, April 11.—(INS)—Republican and democratic legislative leaders were scheduled to confer at the state capitol today and outline preliminary drafts of legislation to facilitate absentee voting by members of the armed services.

They will meet with Gov. Edward Martin Thursday to decide on the final form of the non-political legislation to be submitted to the lawmakers at a special session of the general assembly starting May 1.

Senate majority leader Weldon B. Heyburn of Delaware, said the leaders would have the legislation ready

"as early as possible" in order to clear the assembly's decks for swift action. House minority leader Reuben E. Cohen, of Philadelphia, emphasized that the legislature should adopt bills authorizing a new voting plan for members of the armed services "which will be unencumbered by vote bookkeeping."

The assembly leaders indicated they will have all legislation ready for introduction when the session is convened in order to meet the governor's demand that the work be concluded in one week.

Local Soldier Visits Relatives

The war in Italy, brought family ties closer for Technical sergeant Michael Chirozzi, son of Charles Chirozzi, of 714 West North street, this city, now stationed in Italy, after meeting his aunt and other relatives while on a three day pass in Italy.

Sgt. Chirozzi has been serving overseas since last June, and this has been the first opportunity with him in 10 months to visit his aunt, Mrs. Nick Costello and her children, of Carbone, Potenza, Italy. A welcome party and supper was held for the local soldier, and the neighborhood was quite thrilled with the Army jeep, a machine which they had never seen. Sgt. Chirozzi writes home that the hospitality of the people is wonderful and that this prevails in all parts of Italy, when the residents meet American soldiers.

Your Estimated Income Tax

No. 4 PENALTIES IN CONNECTION WITH ESTIMATED TAXES

Taxpayers will find it to their interest to be prompt and reasonably accurate in the declaration and payment of estimated income taxes, for three types of penalties are imposed by the Revenue Act of 1943 with respect to estimated taxes. These penalties are amounts that are required to be added to the tax in case of (1) failure to file on time a declaration of estimated tax; (2) failure to pay on time any installment of estimated tax; and (3) substantial understatement of tax.

The penalty for failing to file a required declaration on time is equal to 5 per cent of each installment or portion thereof that is due but unpaid, plus 1 per cent per month or fraction thereof (after the first month) up to a maximum for each installment of 10 per cent of the amount due and unpaid. In computing the penalty for the unexcused failure to file a declaration on time the amount of each installment is considered to be a pro rata portion of the correct tax.

A like penalty of 5 per cent plus 1 per cent per month or fraction thereof (after the first month) is added if a declaration has been filed but one or more of the installments is not paid when due. In this case the penalty is computed on a pro rata portion of the estimated tax as shown by the declaration up to a maximum for each installment of 10 per cent of the amount due but unpaid.

These two penalties are separate and distinct and if one is applicable, the other is not. Neither of these additions to the tax will be imposed if the taxpayer can show to the satisfaction of the Bureau of Internal Revenue that the delay was due to a reasonable cause and not to willful neglect. The first installment is considered as due on the due date for filing the declaration and the remaining installments are regarded as due respectively on the fifteenth day of the last month of each succeeding quarter of the taxable year.

A taxpayer who is delinquent in filing his declaration or in making payment will be afforded an opportunity to make an affirmative showing of all facts relied on as a reasonable cause for the failure to file the declaration or pay the tax on time. Alleged ignorance of the law is not accepted as a reasonable cause for delinquency.

If an extension of time for filing a declaration is desired, the request for the extension should be submitted to the Controller of Internal Revenue in ample time so that if, for any reason, the extension is not granted, the declaration can still be filed on time.

If, after the income tax return for the year has been filed, it is discovered that a taxpayer underestimated his tax by more than 20 per cent (or 33 1-3 per cent in the case of farmers), a penalty may be imposed. This penalty for underestimating will not be due, however, if the taxpayer can show that the estimate is computed on last year's income at this year's rates and exemptions, and is paid on time in equal quarterly installments or is paid ahead of time (or, in the case of farmers, is paid in full on or before the 15th day of the last month of the taxable year).

The penalty imposed will be equal to six per cent of the entire shortage in the estimate, but not more than the amount by which the estimate falls short of 80 per cent of the tax or, in the case of farmers, 66 2-3 per cent of the tax.

In making this comparison and computing the penalty it should be remembered that the taxpayer will be given the full benefit of all the credits to which he is entitled for tax withheld from his wages during the year. Accordingly, the estimate on the declaration will be revised by the Bureau of Internal Revenue to equal the total of the "estimated tax" plus the withholding credits. It will be compared with 80 per cent of the tax liability (or 66 2-3 per cent of the tax liability in the case of farmers) to ascertain whether or not there has been an underestimate subject to penalty; if so, it will then be compared with the tax liability itself to determine the amount of the shortage on which the 6 per cent penalty is to be based.

If a taxpayer fails to file a required declaration after the later files a return with a tax liability, the difference between the tax reported and the withholding tax will be the basis for determining if there has been a substantial underestimate.

The penalty for underestimating tax will not be imposed for the year in which occurs the death of a taxpayer.

If a 1944 declaration filed in April, June or September, 1944, is later disclosed to be erroneous, it

EQUITABLE LIFE

The Equitable Life Assurance Society will pay dividends to policyholders in 1944 of $41,400,000, compared with $36,802,000 a year ago. Thomas I. Parkinson, president, announced today in making public the society's 1943 report.

The Equitable, which since 1859 has paid policyholders and beneficiaries more than $5,000,000, paid $46,923,525 in such benefits last year in New York State and $214,388,000 in the country at large. Mr. Parkinson said:

"The increase in dividend payments, applying to most types of individual policies, reflects the favorable trend of mortality experience in recent years and the continued financial progress of the society. During the past several years the society has been strengthening surplus and reserves. This has progressed to the point where it is felt that an increased distribution of dividends for 1944 can prudently be made."

may be revised as late as December 15, 1944, by filing an amended declaration, marked "Amended," with the same collector with whom the original declaration was filed. If it is anticipated prior to the date a declaration is first due, that unforeseen transactions affecting income may occur after December 15 and before the end of the year, the penalty for underestimating tax may be readily avoided by computing the estimated tax when filing the declaration, by using last year's income and this year's rates and exemptions, and making quarterly payments of the resulting tax on time.

By reasonable care taxpayers may so calculate their current installments of income tax payments that only minor year-end adjustments in the way of refund or additional payment will be necessary when the regular income tax return is filed after the close of the year, and the tax liability will be very largely paid off in the year when the income is received.

Says First Ballot Will Name Dewey

WASHINGTON, April 11.—(INS)—Sen. John Thomas (R) Idaho said today a careful nation-wide survey reveals a minimum strength of 650 votes for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as the Republican presidential candidate on the first ballot at the forthcoming GOP national convention. This is more than a majority.

The survey was made by competent persons and is based on instructed delegates and upon uninstructed delegates who favor Dewey," said Thomas.

STOCK MARKET IS IRREGULAR

Trading Is Quiet And Gains
Are Small During Morning Hours

NEW YORK, April 11.—(INS)—The stock market drifted irregularly lower after a dull, mixed opening today with trading quiet. A selective demand bolstered a few issues, but gains were small.

Rather persistent buying lifted rails in the second hour. Atchison was up almost a point, while Southern Pacific, New York Central and Union Pacific had smaller gains.

Other features aided by the selective buying included Sinclair Oil and Western Union. A former selective demand bolstered a few issues, but gains were small.

Motors, utilities, and rubbers were steady. Aviation and specialties eased slightly, while disappointment over Park & Tilford's failure to disclose a definite liquor distribution plan at the annual meeting yesterday brought a 1-point loss to that issue.

Bonds flirmed after early easiness.

Draft Boards To Speed Induction Of Men Under 26

Temporary Halt In Induction
Of Men In War Work
Over 26 Years

By JOHN PAGET
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, April 11.—Pennsylvania's 422 local draft boards were expected by state selective service officials today to accelerate processing young men under 26 years of age for the armed services during the temporary halt in inductions of men over that age.

"The purpose of suspending the induction of men holding occupational deferments over 26 years of age is to permit the boards to speed up the examinations and processing of younger men for combat service," a spokesman said.

May Be 90 Days Delay

The draft delay for older men may range up to 90 days, selective service officials said, although it depended upon the speed with which local boards completed processing younger men. The order suspending the drafting of men over 26 years of age becomes effective tomorrow. Men ordered to report for examinations or induction today and today were not affected by the order sent to all boards by Col. Richard K. Mellon, state draft director.

Selective Service officials emphasized the new ruling would suspend inductions only for those "who are making a contribution to essential agriculture, war production or supporting war activities."

A spokesman at state headquarters said over 26 men need not hold a deferment to have their induction delayed provided they were "supporting the war effort." Obviously, he said, the classification excluded such men as salesmen, clerks, bartenders and persons employed in non-essential businesses.

Enlistments Not Suspended

Draft officials said the new order would not suspend volunteer enlistments nor the induction of 18-year-olds.

Major Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national draft director, told Mellon that the need for younger men was certified by the War and Navy departments. He ordered the state director "to take additional measures to accomplish the immediate necessity for young men even though such measures may result in the current call not being filled."

Hershey's order followed closely on the heels of an announcement by War and Navy officials that the Nation's armed forces embraced more than 11,000,000 men, including 7,500,000 men in the Army. Pennsylvania has sent approximately 1,000,000 men to the Army.

Navy's Coast Guard and Marine Corps since Selective Service became operative in October, 1940.

Jamaica's 30,340 Gallery Witnesses One-Horse Race

"Walkover" Is Caused By Brief Grooms' Strike

Star Of Padula Picks Up Easy $1,800 For Solo Trot Around Track

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 11.—New York racing fans need no longer face the calamity of having their money returned to them during the current track season. This was assured yesterday when the strike of grooms at Jamaica, which very nearly wrecked the season's first two racing programs, was brought to an end which favored the grooms.

The groom strike held up the opening of the New York racing season by a half-hour last Saturday, and yesterday produced the first "walkover" in the history of pari-mutuel racing in the Empire State. When the grooms refused to lead the horses entered in the first race to the paddock, Trainer Jimmy Ritchie marched out with Star of Padula and sent her around the track under Jimmy Stout to collect the entire $1,800 purse.

Bets Refunded
As Star of Padula ran its lonely victory, the metropolitan racing association, which had flatly refused

PERMANE BOOTS HOME WINNER

NEW YORK, April 11.—Apprentice Jockey Bobby Permane, who added a tumultuous chapter to Tropical Park racing history, made his debut at Jamaica yesterday and did fairly well.

He added one winner to the 50 he strung together at Tropical Park and rode Blackstar in the seventh and Head Smart in the fourth, to third. His only winner, Leaving, in the sixth, paid off $5.50, $3.20 and $2.30.

the grooms a demanded bonus of $5 for each horse walked to the paddock and $15 for each winner, refunded the crowd of 20,000 racing fans all money bet on the first race and daily double, a total of $112,933.

The owners of horses entered in the races took action similar to that seen on Saturday when they compromised with the grooms and offered them a one-day $5 bonus for each horse handled. It ended the racing program and held the grooms off until the stablehands went into a huddle with the association after the last race.

The grooms, at the meeting, accepted an offer to increase the value of every purse up to $5,000 by $100, with trainers awarding bonuses to grooms walking horses from barn to paddock.

The somewhat irked gallery, numbering 30,340, dug down into its pocket to the extent of $742,468 for the remainder of the afternoon's program.

After Eight Years, Bartolo Wins Title

Boston Featherweight King Finds Championship Road Tough, Loaded With Knocks

By PATRICK JOYCE
(International News Service Staff Writer)

BOSTON, April 11.—It took him eight years of tough campaigning to win a title.

Twenty-six year old Sal Bartolo of East Boston, NBA featherweight champion, boxed the best in the business in his time. But he will probably tell you that the hardest man he had to overcome was himself.

Sal looked like a true champion when he won ten rounds out of 15 and evened three others in his winning title go with Phil Terranova, hard-punching New Yorker, whom he dethroned in Boston.

Sal "froze" that night, in ring parlance. He was fighting before a big outdoor crowd at Braves Field and he was too tense and over-anxious. Many condemned him then as just a good fighter, who would probably never become a champion. The Boston boy knew he had to go out and prove they were wrong.

Against the Best
He did it by having his manager, Lou Schiro, schedule fights against the best featherweights available in all the Eastern rings.

Sal fought the best outside Terranova and beat them all. Then he was given the title chance against Terranova, who while not so fast as Pep, is reputed a heavier puncher.

Sal was determined to redeem himself before the hometown fans. "I told my manager I'd never put on the gloves again if I booked this one," said Bartolo. "And I meant it."

How much he "meant" it a capacity crowd of 12,139 fans saw as he preceded to hand Terranova a boxing lesson.

Sal is a champion, all right, largely because he learned how to master the weakness he showed against another champion, Willie Pep.

North And South Amateur Golfers' Tourney Started

FINEBURST, N. C., April 11.—(INS)—Match play began today in the 44th annual north and south amateur golf tournament which was paced by Mal Galletta, a husky war worker for the North Hills club of Long Island in the qualifying round.

Galletta topped the medal with a par 34-39-72 to take a two-stroke lead over Peter Landislaw, Plandome, Long Island, and Bill Cozzart of Durham, N. C., who tied 74.

They are joined by Lt. (jg) Alfred Keck of Philadelphia and Jim Fowles of Fox Chapel with 75; R. A. Stranahan of Toledo, O. with 76, and S. B. Gardiner of Plandome, 77.

Capt. Richard D. Chapman, former national champion, who has played little golf lately, was left out in the cold with an 82.

Line Drive Kayoes Outfielder Crabtree

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 11.—(INS)—Manager Bill McKechnie reported today the Cincinnati Reds were in fair shape to start the season next week in spite of the numerous practice games called off because of bad weather.

One of the latest casualties was Outfielder Estel Crabtree, who temporarily was knocked out by a line drive from the bat of Chucho Ramos during batting practice.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, April 11.—The 181-day metropolitan New York racing season—which may be the richest such period in the history of the turf—got off to both an auspicious and a shabby start. One of the most popular themes these days is to pan the track operators and the governing bodies while telling Joe Public and his misbegotten suckers they are. You can't go wrong on either count. However, too little has been said in behalf of the small stable owners who are finding it increasingly difficult to keep in action, and are showing it suddenly with a sort of Ghandi-like passive resistance.

Not that they have been reduced financially yet to wearing only a soiled ed sheet around their middles for the want of appropriate attire. It hasn't come to that. But they are headed that way. That's why today's card at Jamaica is reduced to a handful of starters in each race and that the reason—or one of them—for this Jamaica meeting to be threatened with sudden interruption at any moment.

Small Guy Hit
The Whitneys, the Warrens, the Wrights, the Woodwards and the others of that ilk may be and probably are the backbone of racing in this country, but the rest of the sport's anatomy is certainly made up of those numerous lesser lights who are neither so wealthy or prominent and it is these who are being hit.

First they find themselves nicked for a city tax of one percent based on the value of a horse when he starts, and on Saturday the grooms start for a $5 fee on every horse they lead from the barns to the paddock.

This happened with a Jamaica record crowd of 45,976 money-loaded spectators milling about, and finally the races began a half hour late after the Jockey club had agreed to meet the demands for the one afternoon only leaving the whole thing up in the air and the meeting threatened with cancellation of a program this afternoon or any time until the matter has finally been straightened out.

I don't blame the grooms for trying to get all they can. The tracks get theirs, and not only their own but some that doesn't belong to them, the latter being breakage on wagering and a bone of contention in these times.

However, when the grooms demanded that $5 a horse from the owners they really were in the act of laying on the straw that would bust a work horse's back.

Tax Added Burden
The first the owners must pay that one percent city tax as an extra added burden which wasn't announced until horses were securely stabled here. Then this new nickel comes on top of the usual expenses; there are entry fees, to be paid along with other such expenses as riders, trainers, the groom's regular salaries, exercise boys, stable rent, feed bills, the cost of moving when moving time comes, veterinarians, blacksmiths, and a dozen or more other things.

The owner has to dig up this money from somewhere, and if his stable is running in hard luck and his money is running low or entirely out he sometimes doesn't know from one day to the next where he is going to get that next buck. Often he is looking for one buck when he needs a hundred or a thousand.

On top of all that, small owners and his family have to be housed and fed. They have to live too, although no doubt some of them are beginning to wonder why.

And the difficulties are multiplying in the richest period the turf has ever known.

Ruby Garcia's Experience Too Much For Fritzie Zivic's Protege

PITTSBURGH, April 11.—(INS)—Granite-jawed Ruby Garcia today had once again shown that there's no substitute for experience in winning a unanimous decision over Fritzie Zivic's protege in the featured eight-rounder at the Pittsburgh Gardens last night.

The Puerto Rican, who weighed in at 133 compared with the Milwaukee lad's 131, gave Fontaine his first professional setback in 18 starts. Fontaine, insisted upon closing in on the wild-swinging Garcia, who almost floored him in the last two rounds.

In other matches, Phil Muscato, 170, Buffalo, N. Y., rang up his second straight victory over Homestead's Otto Blackwell, 166. Detroit's John D. Vorce, 172, cloven his way to victory over Philadelphia's Bob Jacobs, 173. Bee Bee Wright, 148, Clairton, scored a TKO over Bobby Maloney, 148. Homestead's Mike Scanlon, 137, East Liberty, decisioned Red Duffy, 138. Detroit, and Benny Andy, 141, Alliquipp, took an easy victory from Larry Edwards, 134, East Liberty.

Claim Schmeling Returns To Rome For Boxing Setto

NEW YORK, April 11.—(INS)—The Nazi-controlled Oslo radio, quoting a Rome dispatch, said today that Max Schmeling, who fell from Hitler's good graces when Sgt. Joe Louis took the world heavyweight crown away from him, had returned to Rome to accept a "challenge" in the ring from an "Hungarian paratrooper from the Cassino front."

The fight will take place shortly, the broadcast said. It did not list the challenger's name, but said that the Hungarian "belongs to the same paratrooper unit which Schmeling distinguished himself on Crete" according to U. S. government monitors.

Big Innings Push Nats Into Second

CHICAGO, April 11.—(INS)—That big inning in which runs top all over the place like firecrackers had a lot to do with keeping the Washington Senators in second place in the American league last season.

Figures released by the league service bureau show that Ossie Bluege's club came up with five or more runs in one inning exactly 20 times, only two times behind the outbursts of the New York Yankees of 1942.

There always has to be a chief victim of these uprisings and the St. Louis Browns were it. The Senats splurged five times with innings of five runs or more in games against the Browns.

Browns No Chumps
The Browns were no chumps, though, in the avalanche department, giving the Philadelphia Athletics the only treatment four times to Boston, Cleveland, New York and Detroit twice each and to Chicago three times.

Individual club honors for the biggest inning of the 1943 season went to the White Sox. On Sept. 28 the Sox broke out in a rash of 13 runs against Washington in the fourth inning, one blew the league record and the top White Sox scoring burst in the team's history.

On July 2 the Cleveland Indians counted 12 runs in the fourth against New York. Those were the only double figure scores in one inning for the season.

'Red' Skelton Left Waiting At Church

HOLLYWOOD, April 11.—(INS)—Muriel Morris, "sweater girl" model, said today that the man for whom she jilted comedian Red Skelton is a wealthy business man in Mexico City.

She declined to give his name, but said she met him during a recent vacation trip to the southern republic.

Her decision to marry him instead of Skelton virtually left the screen and radio comic waiting at the church. They obtained a marriage license last Friday and until Miss Morris changed her mind were to have been married Easter Sunday.

Skelton conceded his surprise. "What a jolt," he remarked.

Hamlet is the longest and said to be the profoundest of Shakespeare's plays. It was acted before 1602.

MANY DELINQUENCIES PAID

What is thought to be a new record for taking taxes was set in the office of County Treasurer Frank W. Hill on Saturday. In addition to the regular run of business, over 600 taxpayers cleared delinquencies against their properties, thus saving a treasurer's sale.

Originally over 2500 notices were sent out to taxpayers notifying them their properties would be sold unless the taxes were paid. Already the list is well below 1500 and by sale day, April 29, it is expected this will go to 1200 or less.

The treasurer's office was kept open until 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. On Monday, the last day to pay delinquencies without additional costs, the office was filled again.

STREET LISTS READY

Voting lists of the 99 precincts of the county are ready for distribution, according to A. Lewis Conn, chief clerk to the permanent registrar office. Each candidate is entitled to a set for the district in which he is running and each party chairman is entitled to ten sets.

Thrushes are birds of economic value. They destroy many insect pests, such as the forest tent caterpillar and gypsy moth, and certain thrushes aid in reforesting burnt areas through eating stone fruits, as cherries.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Prohibition Party Candidates Ruled Off State Ballot

HARRISBURG, April 11.—(INS)—Prohibition party candidates for President, Vice-President, and several congressional seats were ruled off Pennsylvania ballots today by the state election bureau.

Miss Elizabeth McCullough, assistant director, said the petitions were rejected because they were not accompanied by proper affidavits. All candidates for state offices, as well as for U. S. senator, were accepted.

The party had sought to place on the ballot the names of Claude A. Watson, Los Angeles, for President, and Andrew Johnson, Wilmore, Ky., for Vice President.

Miss McCullough said the only congressional candidates named by the party who met all qualifications were Robert G. Burnham, of Clarion, 19th district, and Joseph C. Cameron, Philadelphia, sixth district.

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 11.—Wendell Wilkie's withdrawal from the republican presidential race came as no surprise to political advisers of Gov. Edward Martin ... now that the Indian has announced his withdrawal their estimates of his strength can be disclosed ... in most instances, they never considered the 1940 standardbearer a serious threat to a regular organization-supported candidate at the G. O. P. convention ... it was significant, they said, that Wilkie failed to test his strength in the east.

The democratic party in Pennsylvania is in a better position in the presidential race ... although President Roosevelt has not announced his fourth term candidacy, party members have expressed confidence he will not decide to retire ... democrats have pinned their hopes of sweeping Pennsylvania in the 1944 general election on the President ... several democratic leaders believe that since the President shattered third term tradition, he can attract more votes this year than in 1940.

Michael Baker, Jr., of Rochester, Pa., who specializes in post-war planning, has cautioned local authorities that Pennsylvania must hold its place against the war boom industries in the South, west and southwest when peace returns ... Baker told the Central Institute of municipal post war planning at Harrisburg that the natural resources in other sections of the country have been exploited since the war started with the federal government paying the cost ... "from my experience in Pennsylvania," Baker said, "it seems to me that Pennsylvanians are too complacent, as are the citizens in many other states in the northeast, about holding their position gained during the war ... unless we plan attractive communities and get ready now to compete, we may lose many skilled workers, as well as many of the new industries to other states of the nation" ... he particularly warned of the new industrial possibilities to be found in Washington, Texas, California and Florida.

The department of highways reveals that there are 234 covered wooden bridges ranging in age from 24 to 137 years still in use ... all have safe capacities up to three tons ... the Northbrook bridge, oldest in the state, is located on Brandywine creek, near Pocopson in Chester county ... flood waters have had little effect on the spans because they were usually constructed on slightly elevated land ... thus high waters flowed around the bridge and over the road rather than under the structure ... historical societies are given an opportunity to preserve the bridges in nearby fields if the department decides to build a modern structure on the same site.

Youth Sentenced For Complicity In Pottsville Murder

POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 11.—(INS)—Jerome Brockway, 17-year-old Pottsville high school student, was under sentence today to serve an indeterminate term at the Huntingdon Industrial school for complicity in the murder of Harvey Bressler, 63, Summit Station timber cutter.

Brockway had entered a plea of guilty, while John Romberger, 43, a neighbor of Bressler, stood trial for the same slaying and was given life imprisonment after being convicted.

The two were accused of beating Bressler to death last July 28 and hiding his body in a mountainside coal stripping where it was found 15 days later. Young Brockway was employed by Romberger as a hired hand.
